Adam E. Snavelly Elected to MCAA Board of Directors

ROCKVILLE, MD—The Mechanical Contractors Association of America, Inc. (MCAA) elected Adam E. Snavelly to its Board of Directors during the association's annual convention in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Mr. Snavelly is the president and chief executive officer of The Poole & Kent Corporation, a mechanical construction company located in Baltimore, Maryland.

He is active in the association on both the national and local levels. At the national level, he serves on the Project Managers Education Committee and the Institute for Project Acquisition Committee.

At the local level, he is vice president of the Mechanical Contractors Association of Maryland, where he has been a member of the Board of Directors since 2002. He also has served on that organization's Labor Negotiating, Marketing and Education Committees, including a term as vice chairman of the Education Committee. In addition, he is a member of the Board of Trustees of COUNT (Contractors and Unions Working Together) and serves as president of the ACE Mentor Program's Baltimore Chapter.

The Mechanical Contractors Association of America, Inc. (MCAA) serves the unique needs of approximately 2,500 firms involved in heating, air conditioning, refrigeration, plumbing, piping, and mechanical service. We do this by providing our members with high-quality educational materials and programs to help them attain the highest level of managerial and technical expertise. MCAA includes the Mechanical Service Contractors of America, the Plumbing Contractors of America, the Manufacturer/Supplier Council, the Mechanical Contracting Education and Research Foundation and the National Certified Pipe Welding Bureau.
