

NEWS RELEASE

Mechanical Contractors Association of America

1385 Piccard Drive, Rockville, MD 20850-4340

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 21, 2011

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Adrienne Breedlove

abreedlove@mcaa.org

301-869-5800

MCAA Member Firms Honored for Safety Excellence in 2010 Companies showed an outstanding commitment to the highest standard of safety

ROCKVILLE, MD—Mechanical Contractors Association of America (MCAA) member firms that demonstrated the highest level of safety excellence in 2010 were recognized with Safety Excellence Awards during the Annual Awards of Excellence Breakfast. The March 9 awards breakfast was part of the association's annual convention in Wailea, Maui, Hawaii.

MCAA President Bob Armistead presented the awards, inviting representatives from each of the first-place award-winning companies to come to the stage to accept their awards. The winners who received recognition for their exemplary 2010 safety records, as determined by a statistical survey conducted this January, were:

In Category One, 100,000 work hours and under,

- First place: Current Mechanical of Fort Wayne, IN. Ted Current, Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, accepted the award.
- Second place: J. Moore and Company, Livingston, NJ
- Third place: Lescure Company, Lafayette, CA

In Category Two, 100,000 to 250,000 work hours,

- First place: University Marelich Mechanical of Anaheim, CA. The award was accepted by Scott Baker, President and CEO.

- Second place: CFI Mechanical, Houston, TX
- Third place: Broadway Mechanical Contractors, Oakland, CA

In Category Three, 250,000 to 400,000 work hours,

- First place: Binsky & Snyder of Piscataway, NJ. Bob Snyder, Jr., Executive Vice President, accepted the award.
- Second place: Limbach Company of Laurel, MD
- Third place: Illingworth-Kilgust Mechanical of Milwaukee, WI

In Category Four, 400,000 to 1,000,000 work hours,

- First place: Scheck Mechanical Corporation of Countryside, IL. The award was accepted by Rich Scheck, President and CEO; Chris Scheck, Vice President; Michael Scheck, Vice President - Sales and Billy Odom, CFO.
- Second place: Poole & Kent Corporation, Baltimore, MD
- Third place: Freitag-Weinhardt, Incorporated of Terre Haute, IN

In Category Five, over 1,000,000 work hours,

- First place: Performance Mechanical of Pittsburg, CA. Don Silva, President and CEO, and Pat Jones, Vice President, accepted the award.
- Second place: Nooter Construction of Trevese, PA
- Third place: Matrix Service Industrial Contractors of Eddystone, PA

President Armistead congratulated all of the safety award recipients and thanked Safety and Health Committee Chairman Tom Skaggs of the Murphy Company, the members of this hard-working committee, and MCAA's safety director Pete Chaney, saying, "They do a great job for us by developing programs and tools so we can continuously improve safety in the workplace."

The Mechanical Contractors Association of America, Inc. (MCAA) serves the unique needs of approximately 2,500 firms involved in heating, air conditioning, refrigeration, plumbing, piping, and mechanical service. We do this by providing our members with high-quality educational materials and programs to help them attain the highest level of managerial and technical expertise. MCAA includes the Mechanical Service Contractors of America, the Plumbing Contractors of America, the Manufacturer/Supplier Council, the Mechanical Contracting Education and Research Foundation and the National Certified Pipe Welding Bureau.

###