  - The Summary of Paycheck Protection Program Lending (Updated 6/6/20)
  - The SBA, jointly with the Department of Treasury announced Paycheck Protection Program changes in response to the recent passage of the Paycheck Protection Flexibility Act. (6/9/20) (New)
  - These changes include (New):
    - Extend the covered period for loan forgiveness from eight weeks after the date of loan disbursement to 24 weeks after the date of loan disbursement, providing substantially greater flexibility for borrowers to qualify for loan forgiveness. Borrowers who have already received PPP loans retain the option to use an eight-week covered period.
    - Lower the requirements that 75 percent of a borrower’s loan proceeds must be used for payroll costs and that 75 percent of the loan forgiveness amount must have been spent on payroll costs during the 24-week loan forgiveness covered period to 60 percent for each of these requirements. If a borrower uses less than 60 percent of the loan amount for payroll costs during the forgiveness covered period, the borrower will continue to be eligible for partial loan forgiveness, subject to at least 60 percent of the loan forgiveness amount having been used for payroll costs.
    - Provide a safe harbor from reductions in loan forgiveness based on reductions in full-time equivalent employees for borrowers that are unable to return to the same level of business activity the business was operating at before February 15, 2020, due to compliance with requirements or guidance issued between March 1, 2020 and December 31, 2020 by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, or the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, related to worker or customer safety requirements related to COVID–19.
    - Provide a safe harbor from reductions in loan forgiveness based on reductions in full-time equivalent employees, to provide protections for borrowers that are both unable to rehire individuals who were employees of the borrower on February 15, 2020, and unable to hire similarly qualified employees for unfilled positions by December 31, 2020.
Increase to five years the maturity of PPP loans that are approved by SBA (based on the date SBA assigns a loan number) on or after June 5, 2020.

- Extend the deferral period for borrower payments of principal, interest, and fees on PPP loans to the date that SBA remits the borrower’s loan forgiveness amount to the lender (or, if the borrower does not apply for loan forgiveness, 10 months after the end of the borrower’s loan forgiveness covered period).

- In addition, the new rules will confirm that June 30, 2020, remains the last date on which a PPP loan application can be approved.

- Recent claims pertaining to COVID-19 and business interruption losses continue to be filed, while dispositive motion practice has kicked off in some previously-filed actions. Notable filings and orders include:
  - On May 29, In-N-Out Burgers filed suit against its insurer Zurich American Insurance Company in the Central District of California, alleging that it was prohibited by government order to provide dine-in services, that it suffered business interruption losses despite being able to continue drive-through operations, and that Zurich wrongfully denied its claims for business interruption coverage. In-N-Out argues that its policy “expressly includes coverage for many type of contamination, including . . . virus, pathogen, or pathogenic organism, and disease-causing illness or agent.” In-N-Out seeks damages for breach of contract and a declaratory judgment outlining the scope of Zurich’s obligation to pay under the policy. The case is IN-N-Out Burgers v. Zurich Am. Ins. Co., No. 8:20-cv-1000 (C.D. Cal.).
On June 2, Geragos & Geragos APC (“Geragos”) moved to dismiss the declaratory judgment action filed by Travelers Casualty Insurance Company of America in the Central District of California. Geragos argues that dismissal is warranted because Travelers has engaged in forum shopping by filing the action in federal court after Geragos had filed several suits on behalf of itself and various clients in California state court, and that the Central District should decline to entertain the suit as it raises “novel and unsettled questions of state law” better resolved by the state courts. The case and docket entry are Travelers Cas. Ins. Co. of Am. v. Geragos & Geragos APC, No. 2:20-cv-03619-PSG-EP (C.D. Cal.), Dkt. 16.

On June 3, Flor Expo LLC and Kendal Floral Supply, LLC filed suit against their insurer Travelers Property Casualty Company of American in the Southern District of California, alleging that the insurer used COVID-19 as a pretense to deny Plaintiffs claims for physical loss of flower inventory in a form-denial letter, despite Plaintiffs allegedly not having referenced either COVID-19 or business interruption in their claim submissions. Instead, Plaintiffs allege that government orders prohibited Plaintiffs from accessing their warehouses where imported flowers were stored, and Plaintiffs were unable to move their inventory before it perished. Plaintiffs seek declaratory relief and damages for breach of contract and breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The case is FlorExpo LLC et al. v. Travelers Prop. Cas. Co. of Am., No. 3:20-cv-01024-JLS-DEB (S.D. Cal.)
