Business Insurance Issues Related to COVID-19

- For a 50-state review of business interruption insurance related issues see this new COVID-19 Insurance Litigation and Regulatory Issues tracker. (Weekly update 6/21/20)
- On June 15, Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP filed a complaint on behalf of its client Atelier 1 2 3 Restaurant LLC dba Atelier Crenn against insurers Farmers Group Inc. and Truck Insurance Exchange alleging that Farmer’s Group Inc. wrongfully denied plaintiff’s claim for business interruption coverage. Plaintiff argues that the denial of coverage was “part of a premeditated strategy by Defendant to deny all claims related to the ‘shelter in place’ orders and COVID-19.” Plaintiff claims that the policies at issue provide coverage for several reasons, including because the shelter in place orders resulted in a loss of access to the insured premises necessitating a suspension of business operations. Plaintiff asserts claims for breach of contract, breach of covenant of good faith and fair dealing, unfair business practices under California’s Unfair Competition Law, and declaratory relief. The case is Atelier 1 2 3 Restaurant LLC, et al. v. Farmers Group Inc., et al., No. CGC-20-584762 (San Francisco Cnty. Sup. Ct., filed June 15, 2020). (New)
- On June 15, Society Insurance moved to dismiss Rising Dough, Inc.’s putative class action alleging wrongful denial of business interruption coverage. Society cited several grounds for dismissal including that the policy did not provide business income or extra expense coverage because COVID-19 did not cause “direct physical loss of or damage to covered property.” Moreover, Civil Authority coverage did not exist because Plaintiffs’ alleged losses were not caused by an order of civil authority prohibiting access to the premises on grounds of either damage to other property or a dangerous physical condition. The docket entry is Rising Dough, Inc. v. Society Insurance, No. 2:20-cv-00623-JPS (E.D. Wis.), Dkt. No. 20. (New)
